A New KIND Program for Today's Youth

By Charles F. Herrmann, HSUS Director of Humane Education

The directors of HSUS have long recognized the importance of kindness programs for children. We have been working hard to expand our efforts in this area, and I'm pleased to announce the launch of the new KIND Program for Today's Youth.

This program is designed to help kids develop a sense of empathy and compassion for all living things, and it's available to schools, youth groups, and other organizations that want to make a difference in their communities.

The KIND Program includes a series of activities and resources, such as:

- A kindergarten-level publication for children ages 6-8
- A middle school publication for children ages 10-14
- A high school publication for students 16 and up

The KIND Program is based on the KIND project, which was launched in 1985 and has reached millions of children around the world.

I hope you will join us in supporting the KIND Program and helping to make a positive impact on the lives of children everywhere.

Sincerely,

Charles F. Herrmann, Director of Humane Education
